Greetings:

We at the Department of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention are pleased to share with you this year's Juvenile Crime Prevention Council Report and Certification. This report will give you information on each county's efforts to combat juvenile crime, help insure public safety, and assist youth in becoming good citizens despite their individual, family, and community challenges.

Ninety-nine (99) JCPCs in 100 counties serve approximately 29,000 youth each year in local programs, using varying approaches according to specific needs and resources in local communities. Key community leaders and youth-serving professionals in counties are statutorily designated as JCPC members. With the assistance of the Department's Area Consultants, these JCPC members gather and synthesize state and county-specific data on undisciplined and delinquent youth. Then, using their knowledge of county resources, needs, county services, etc., each JCPC engages in a structured, prescriptive annual planning process which allows them to make informed decisions on what types of prevention and intervention programs are needed within their own counties. This state and local partnership, which is viewed as a model by many juvenile justice professionals in other states, enables us to elicit local expertise and input in developing solutions to statewide challenges.

It is readily apparent, then, that our community partners are an integral part of our efforts to maintain public safety and enhance the prevention of juvenile delinquency, and absolutely necessary to provide an integrated, comprehensive juvenile justice system.

We hope this report will provide policy makers the information needed for promoting the most effective and efficient services to the children and families in North Carolina.

Sincerely,

Introduction

This Juvenile Crime Prevention Council Grant report responds to Special Provision: JCPC Grant Reporting and Certification: Section 18.7 of S.L. 2009-451 ratified in the 2009 session of the North Carolina General Assembly. The report focuses on data from FY 2009-2010 and FY 2010-2011. Of particular interest in this report are sections on the FY 2010-2011 JCPC allocation to county JCPCs and the membership of the local councils. The types of programs funded and a short description of the programs and services funded are also provided. The report also identifies JCPC programs that were previously funded but for which funding has been eliminated by the Department. Also included is a section on the number of at-risk, diverted, and adjudicated juveniles served statewide and by county. The Department also articulates its actions in partnership with county JCPCs and Boards of Commissioners to prioritize funding for dispositions of intermediate and community-level sanctions for court adjudicated juveniles. In addition, the total cost for each funded program, including the cost per juvenile and the essential elements of the program are described. In sum, this report responds to Special Provision Section 18.7 (1) through (8). The text of the Special Provision is included next.

18.7(7) Department Actions to Ensure that County JCPCs Prioritize Funding for Dispositions of Intermediate and Community-Level Sanctions for Adjudicated Juveniles Under Minimum Standards Adopted by the Department

This section describes the Annual Planning Process structured by the Department to be used by county JCPCs to ensure that they are meeting statutory requirements for prioritizing funding for adjudicated youth as well as responding to the prevention/intervention needs of youth at-risk for juvenile delinquency in the community. Each county is required by the Department to certify that the steps taken in the structured planning process result in prioritization of funding for adjudicated youth. Further, the Department, through its area and state offices, provides ongoing training, technical assistance, and program monitoring to ensure that county JCPCs and County Boards of Commissioners adhere to these statutory responsibilities.

Local Juvenile Crime Prevention Councils are legislated to complete many critical tasks during the annual planning cycle. Under General Statute mandates, JCPCs must complete the following tasks annually: (1) assess the risks for delinquency in the community (analyze the offender profile unique to the county and address community risk factors that contribute to delinquency), (2) assess local resources available to serve target youth populations in the community, (3) identify service gaps and services needed to fill gaps in the service continuum, (4) lay out a matrix of service needs that are advertised through a Request for Proposal (RFP) process to solicit service providers to address service needs, and finally (5) complete a county governmental approved plan for addressing delinquency that identifies and distributes the county JCPC allocation to grant service provider entities.

A local Juvenile Crime Prevention Council structures itself to deliberately address the legislated mandates in the execution of its duties. Its decision-making process in awarding the county allocation to non-profits or government-sponsored entities to address the needs of court-involved and at-risk youth requires multiple tiers to decision-making. This decision-making ensures that the allocation is efficiently and soundly invested across the service continuum to best match services to the needs of youth in the community. There are many factors that influence this decision-making process; however, the methodology of utilizing JCPC by-laws, conflict of interest disclosure, and subcommittee board structure allows for the deliberations and final award of funding to programs to be thorough and sound. Technical assistance, training, and general oversight under the guidance of the Department and its area consultants are consistently used to ensure compliance with legislative mandates.

In presenting the funding plan for the county, the JCPC examines its own operation under legislatively mandated activity and ensures that the grant-funded service providers meet eligibility requirements from a programmatic, administrative, and fiscal perspective. The following examines the multi-tasking and community activity that produces a JCPC's final funding plan:

- A JCPC subcommittee screens grants for eligibility and match against service needs addressed in the RFP.
- The JCPC extends an invitation to eligible service providers to forums to present service programming and budgetary needs to the JCPC (full council or subcommittee).

- The JCPC collaborates with the county government to secure match support (10%, 20%, or 30% cash and/or in-kind match from local/county revenue sources to secure funding). Some counties provide cash match to the total allocation and authority is given to the local JCPC to allocate this cash match along with the grant award.
- A JCPC subcommittee deliberates on grant award amounts to individual service providers. Committee deliberations include review and examination of the following:
 - type of program and match against priority dispositional option service needs
 - grant-funded program revenue sources and blending of revenues
 - monitoring reports/court counselor program utilization surveys for continuation grant programs to ensure that programs are fiscally and programmatically sound (monitoring entails another subcommittee task)
 - capacity of program services and target populations served
 - analysis of community programs/services availability other than JCPC funded programs that serve the needs of adjudicated and at-risk youth
- Community recommendations to full JCPC for approval of grant award amounts to grant-funded JCPC programs
- Presentation of JCPC final annual planning document including the JCPC's grant funding recommendations to the County Board of Commissioners for review and final approval.

In summary, the Department implements a highly structured planning process each year to ensure that each county JCPC meets statutory requirements and Department minimum standards while conducting a detailed risk and needs assessment, community resources assessment, and gaps in services identification. These tools are then used as the foundation of its decision-making process in awarding grants to service providers that give priority to meeting the specific needs of court-adjudicated youth as well as pre-adjudicated, at-risk youth in the community. The Department works in partnership with each local JCPC to provide program oversight through program monitoring, technical assistance, and training that further ensures that statutory requirements and Department minimum standards are adhered to and implemented effectively. Ultimately, these processes and strategies create communities that have decreased juvenile delinquency and increased public safety.

18.7(8) JCPC Program Cost Analysis

This section details the total FY 2009-2010 JCPC cost per program, including the budget from all revenue sources: state, local, and federal (including local cash and in-kind contributions), the total DJJDP allocation to county JCPCs for the fiscal year, the number of youth participants, the average cost per youth (all revenue sources) and the average DJJDP cost per youth. It also includes a summary of the essential elements of all JCPC program services and structures. The FY 2009-2010 JCPC Program Cost Analysis is depicted in the chart below. Note: The total budget column in the cost analysis below includes the total DJJDP allocation for FY 2009-2010 as well as all other revenue sources (e.g., local cash, local in-kind, non-JCPC grants, and other state/federal funding). JCPC Administrative/Certification funding is not included in the cost analysis below. The DJJDP allocation for the JCPC Administrative/Certifications was $569,112.

JCPC PROGRAM COST ANALYSIS FY 2009-2010

(Source: JCPC Client Tracking System)

As evidenced in the chart above, JCPCs are using the DJJDP allocation to leverage other sources of revenue for programs and services to meet the needs of at-risk and adjudicated youth in their counties. In fact, they are leveraging over $18.1 million in funding from other revenue sources (local, state, and federal), which represents over 46% of their total funding. This represents another significant indicator of the collaboration among county agencies and organizations represented on the JCPC as well as the effectiveness of the state-local partnership in this ongoing effort to improve public safety and reduce juvenile delinquency in our state. Also indicated in the chart above is the relative average cost per youth (all funding sources) as well as the average DJJDP cost per youth. These data reveal an average cost per youth (all funding sources) of $1,329.91 and an average DJJDP cost per youth of $718.75.

In order to get a more precise view of the types of program services and structures represented in the six major program types represented in the chart above, a description of the essential elements of JCPC program component types is provided next.

Essential Elements of JCPC Program Service and Structures Types

COMPONENTS PROVIDING RESIDENTIAL SERVICES:

- Group Home Care: Twenty-four hour care for a residential placement lasting six to eight months. The placement is therapeutic and may have a structured family-like environment for youth. Includes intervention with client's family during and after placement and targets a reduction in offending behavior and recidivism.
- Temporary Shelter Care: Group home care and shelter (up to 90 days) for juveniles who need to be temporarily removed from their homes during a family crisis.
- Runaway Shelter Care: Shelter care for juveniles who have runaway from home, are homeless or otherwise need short term care (10 days or less) while arrangements are made for their return home.
- Specialized Foster Care: Care for youth with serious behavioral or emotional problems through foster parents whose special training is designed to help them understand and provide needed support for children who are placed in their care.
- Temporary Foster Care: Short-term (up to 90 days) emergency foster care for diverted or adjudicated juveniles who need to be temporarily removed from their homes during a family crisis. Foster parents have been specially trained to understand and support the youth placed in their care.

COMPONENTS PROVIDING CLINICAL TREATMENT:

- Counseling: Professional, clinical treatment with a licensed counselor or therapist. Counseling may be one-on-one (individual), family counseling or group counseling. The focus of counseling is to resolve any of a range of problems including but limited to interpersonal relationships, problem behavior, or substance abuse.
- Crisis Counseling: Short-term assistance to juveniles in immediate danger of physical or emotional injury by a helping professional either face-to-face or by phone.
- Sex Offender Treatment: Outpatient assessment and/or therapeutic services to juvenile offenders targeting inappropriate sexual conduct and offending behavior with a clear focus on rehabilitation and accountability of the offender. Practiced primarily in groups, the treatment has a family group component or focus, has designated follow-up procedures and is generally legally mandated.
- Psycho-Educational Supportive Counseling: Provides education to help a juvenile better understand his current circumstances and brief interventions to encourage and support him to make more positive decisions.
- Home-Based Family Counseling: Short term, intensive services focusing on family interactions/dynamics and their link to delinquent behavior. Involves the entire family and is typically conducted in the home. May also include the availability of a trained individual to respond by phone or in person to crises. The goal is to prevent delinquent and undisciplined behavior by enhancing family functioning and self-sufficiency.

COMPONENTS PROVIDING ONLY EVALUATION OR ASSESSMENT:

- Psychological Assessment: Psychological evaluation or assessments to help court counselors and judges recommend the most appropriate consequences and treatment for court involved youth.

RESTORATIVE COMPONENTS:

- Mediation/Conflict Resolution: Provides a process for a juvenile and a victim to resolve a problem or a dispute outside of the formal court process. Mediators do not counsel or give advice but facilitate communication among parties as the parties work to reach their own decisions regarding resolution of their conflict. These components offer immediate and short-term involvement with youth to focus resolving negative and/or offending behaviors.
- Restitution/Community Service: Provides supervised worksites in which juveniles are held accountable for their actions that have affected the community and/or victim(s). Through supervised, assigned work, a juvenile earns credit towards payment of monetary compensation for victims (if required) and performs work for the benefit of the community as a consequence of his offense. Juveniles are supervised by adult staff or trained adult volunteers.
- Teen Court: Provides a diversion from juvenile court where trained adult and youth volunteers act as officials of the court to hear complaints. Recommended sanctions include but are not limited to community service and restitution (if applicable) for youth who have admitted committing minor delinquency and undisciplined complaints. Professional adult staff provides supervision of the court proceedings and any subsequent community service and/or restitution.

STRUCTURED ACTIVITIES COMPONENTS:

- Mentoring: Matches adult volunteers with delinquent or at-risk youth on a one-on-one basis. The mentor is an individual providing support, friendship, advice, and/or assistance to the juvenile. After recruitment, screening and training, the mentor spends time with the juvenile on a regular basis and engages in activities such as sports, movies, and helping with homework.
- Interpersonal Skill Building: Assists juveniles in developing the social skills required for an individual to interact in a positive way with others. The basic skill model begins with an individual's goals, progresses to how these goals should be translated into appropriate and effective social behaviors, and concludes with the impact of the behavior on the social environment. Typical training techniques are instruction, modeling of behavior, practice and rehearsal, feedback, and reinforcement. May also include training in a set of techniques, such as conflict resolution or decision making, that focus on how to effectively deal with specific types of problems or issues that an individual may confront in interacting with others.
- Parent/Family Skill Building: Assists parents/guardians with psychological, behavioral, emotional, or interpersonal issues faced by a parent(s) of a juvenile engaging in problem behaviors or delinquent acts. This component provides parenting skills development, including communication and discipline techniques. May include sessions for parents only and/or sessions for parents and family members.

- Experiential Skill Building: Assists juveniles in developing needed skills through the use of outdoor adventures and physical activities or challenges to instruct, demonstrate, and allow the practice of effective interpersonal, problem-solving, communication and similar skills to achieve the goals of increasing self-esteem, building interpersonal skills, and building pro-social behavior.
- Tutoring/Academic Enhancement: Assists juveniles in understanding and completing schoolwork and/or classes. May assist juveniles and parents with study skills and structure for studying and completing academic assignments. May also provide trips designed to be an enrichment of or supplemental experience beyond the basic educational curriculum.
- Vocational Development: The overall emphasis focuses on preparing the juvenile to enter the work force by providing actual employment, job placement, non-paid work service (non-restitution based), job training or career counseling. These programs provide training to juveniles in a specific vocation, career exploration or career counseling, and/or job readiness.
- Life Skills Training: Provides opportunities for juveniles to develop the necessary skills to effectively manage every day living. This may include a wide range of issues such as general problem solving, social/moral reasoning, balancing responsibilities, how to deal with housing issues, time, and money management.
- Guided Growth: Interventions focus on interpersonal skill building, experiential skill building, vocational development, or life skills training. Components of this category are being reclassified to a more specific type.
- Prevention Services: Interventions provide a primary focus on preventing youth from becoming juvenile delinquents by providing counseling, interpersonal skill building, experiential skill building, vocational development, or life skills training. Components of this category are being reclassified to a more specific type.
- Re-Entry Services: Interventions to help juveniles returning to the community from residential placements cope with transition to their new setting. Components that provide this type of intervention are now classified as counseling or one of the skill building services.

COMMUNITY DAY PROGRAMS:

- Juvenile Structured Day: Provides a highly structured and supervised setting for juveniles who are short-term or long-term suspended from school or are exhibiting behavior that might otherwise result in placement in detention. Typically, these components serve youth who are court-involved and referrals are made from juvenile court counselors. These components may operate on a full or partial day schedule. Interventions include Individual and/or Family Counseling, Substance Abuse Education/Treatment, Restitution/Community Service, Tutoring, Alternative Education, Vocational Development and Structured Activities.
